Foreword

On June 11, we, the Class of 1935, are going through the doors of Alexandria High School, never to return. We shall each open a new door, leading to new highways, and we may never meet again.

If, in the future years, when we are scattered over the world, this book can turn back the years for us and let us relive, in memory, our High School days, if, as we turn its pages we can see again the old familiar corridors, master the principles of geometry, and proudly pass in review with fellow cadets, then this book will have served its purpose—a reminder of something never to be forgotten.

We, the Class of 1935, dedicate this, our edition of the ALECKO, to our teacher, helper, and friend, Miss Nora Hossley, in appreciation of her kindness and guidance during our High School years.

Heritage

Here's to you, Senior,
With your heritage of youth,
Youth to seek honor,
Youth to find truth,
Youth to make dreams.

Your boy and girl days are over,
But your Heritage is with you,
And this time hangs, a
Tapestried background for the future.

Thank God for this, your heritage,
This strength for fighting battles,
This feeling of vantage,
This spirit urging you forward.

With these happy days your memories,
God your leader, and youth your banner,
To you success is promised,
Oh Senior, with your heritage of youth.

ELISABETH PEABODY, '35.

Class Prophecy

"The world moves on"—come day; go day—and life begins at 8:40——

Funny how a period of five years can contain such numerous experiences and changes. This time five years ago, the Senior Class of '35 was looking eagerly toward the future, to graduation day, to the prom, to last minutes of "farewells" and "so-longs"—to the beginning of real "Life" with a capital "K."

I pick up my evening paper, purchased from an old, feeble, and very unfortunate man on the street corner of this busy city, Richmond. Here is an article of great interest to me. And no wonder; it is headed "Washington, D. C." and above the article, gracing the page with its simple and sweet beauty, is Margaret—Miss Margaret Brinckman ("Brinky" to you, chump). She makes her debut, her bow to Society this week. She'll fit in all right; that young lady has class. And, oh! Speaking of class, the ever alert and spry Mary Lewis has a dancing class of promising amateurs out on the West Coast. Received this news from Topping Bradley who is the top in radio. He went west and came back almost famous. Who is this Morton Downey person?

How I enjoyed reading the letter I received from Celeste Gorham—still residing in old Alexandria. She keeps me "posted" on all the progress made by the pals of my high school days. Celeste is still winning "intellectual" contests. She seems to be winning a contest of love also. She saw Edna Weiner; employed she was by a grade-A dentist in D. C.; she does everything but restore fallen hair; with Edna we connect the other two, Rosie and Annie; what rascals! But they have gone places, too; Rosie is the nurse she longed to be; don't be surprised if she owns the darned hospital one of these days.

Annie is now a Mrs.—good ole Annie—still trying to look out for "Sis." She is happy, and that counts. Did you see where she won a cup for record swimming this past year?

Guess who blew the roof off the house the other day—Sonny Roland. He will invent a toothless chicken if he doesn't let up—Heh! Heh! Drop over to Chesapeake Bay some summer day and see who's slapping hot dogs in rolls. Why, Paul Caton! Is that what Mr. Lindsey taught you?

Moxley Irvin owns all the battleships down in Augusta, Georgia. Did you ever see a battleship in Augusta?

Gosh, did all the young men who graduated from A. H. S. turn out to be newspaper men in one way or the other. Tom Marcus and Albie Jacobson fairly rule the old black and white sheet nowadays, and Kate Alfriend—what a woman!—can really go to town when writing up her bit on America's star fullback, Eddie Beach. Why, Kate knows every ball player from Maine to Florida.

Lottie Dove and Jeanne Nalls happen to be sunning together on the beach at Miami. Lottie is still looking for her ideal.

Marvin Collins' new picture, "Life in a Mining Camp Town," comes to our theater next month; as a boxer Marvin makes a dandy lover, but a real boxer is Marion Pulzone; Baer shrinks when he hears the name of the great Pulzone.

Guess who is working on Wall Street? Yes, you are right. Once with a good start you can win: Mary Simpson, Evelyn Mendelson, Dorothy Apperson, and Edna Apperson are receiving nice little salaries; Miss King has taught those 40 fingers to go places on a typewriter.

Walter Cornnell and Winnie Jefferies have graduated with honors from West Point. That's the old spirit!

Anne Monroe, Marjorie Garvey, Janet Otley, Lynde Crocker, Katherine Dunn, and Margaret Brinckman have surely stuck together; their vacation this season is to be spent abroad. Boy, that's lasting friendship.

Jerry Rhodes and Gladys Lee are sailing happily on the matrimonial seas. Florence Turner is still flitting around like a butterfly, but this time she is fluttering around Hubby.

Alice Herring, Harriet Baggett, and Mary Greenwood put work before pleasure. Keep those chins up, girls.

Isabelle Rainey isn't a bit taller. She teaches Kindergarten up in the big city of Chicago and loves school, doesn't she?

The owner of a haberdashery store, Norman Cary is the pride of his family. We "figure" that Lucie Reynolds will be shipped to Paris one of these days. Well, she can wear clothes.

Wonder why Billy Ridgeley decided that business would be better out West? Don't let her escape, Bill.

Earl Barnett is salesman at the Blue Ridge Coal Company, a man's job if there ever was one. But does that coal get under your skin!

Turn your dial to station WJZ on Thursday night and hear Mary Adams go south on all popular numbers. You can't keep a song out of that gal's throat.

That little cottage with rose bushes and honey suckle has become a reality. Jerrie Carlton is the queen of her own little realm.

So, I have scanned the pages of letter, note, and newspaper, and my heart is at ease to know all those used-to-be pals are traveling Life's road happily and prosperously.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Alexandria High School, being of sound mind and under no undue pressure, do therefore make, ordain, publish, and declare this to be our last WILL and TESTAMENT.

I, Kate Alfriend, will my ability to sports writing to no one, for I have no equal.

I, Eddie Beach, leave my dimples to Betty Worsham who is in need of them.

I, Margaret Brinckman, bequeath to Lois Brown my art of being beautiful but not dumb.

I, Marvin Collins, leave my looks to Al Stewart.

I, Walter Cornnell, will my brains to Charles Henry Smith, Jr.

I, Lynde Crocker, leave my sophistication to Virginia Nichols.

I, Marjorie Garvey, leave to Miss Kiracofe my walk, which is very different.

I, Celeste Gorham, give to Jane Purvis my Public Speaking Trophy.

I, Edna Weiner, bequeath my versatility to little Grace Mosher.

I, Albert Jacobson, bequeath my cuteness to Grayson Grant.

I, William Jefferies, leave my way with women to Robert Rutledge.

I, Gladys Lee, leave my good disposition to Coleman Armitage.

I, Mary Lewis, leave my ability to write notes to Virginia Coffman.

I, Peyton Luckett, will my name at football playing to my little brother, Richard.

I, Bernard McGahey, give my smile and winning ways to David Harrison.

I, Anne Monroe, will my frankness to Miss Reardon (with her permission.)

I, Betty Moss, leave my beauty to Barbara Hudnutt.

I, Jeanne Nalls, leave my ability to play the piano to Irene Dodge.

I, Lillian Olinger, bequeath my braid to Pearl Harrison.

I, Janet Otley, will my calm repose to Evelyn Darnell.

I, Virginia Rasbach, leave my many clothes to my sister, Elizabeth.

I, Lucie Reynolds, bequeath my acting ability to Rachel Shelton, who is so shy on a stage.

I, Geraldine Rhodes, leave my cuteness to Anne Caton.

I, William Riddick, will my intelligence to Milford Cowling.

I, Elmer Ridgeley, bequeath my ability to complete a four-year course in six years to Leslie Arnold.

We, Annie and Rose Shapiro, leave our athletic ability to the next set of twins that comes to High School.

I, Jimmy Simpson, will my success as a study hall monitor to Courtland Davis, in the hope that he will be as good as I was.

I, Lewis Tesh, leave my great capacity for learning to Edward Finnegan.

I, Joyce Waller, leave my dancing propensities to Shirley Major.

Wire Tappings

This is station A. H. S. of the Maroon and Gold Broadcasting System, presenting Wanchill Wilter through the courtesy of the Seniors of "'35," broadcasting other people's business! Mr. Wanchill Wilter.

"Flash! Miss Lottie has been reported flirting again. Our correspondents report her seen in the company of such popular males as Billy Birrell, Larry Noell, Topping Bradley, and others. Be careful, Miss Dove.

"Flash! Another historical fact has been established. Mary Lewis and Bill Ridgeley are still 'arm-in-arming' it and me thinks this is a 'till-death-do-them-part' compact.

"Flash! Cassanova Winnie Jefferies has conscientiously and scrupulously divided his time among Virginia Nichols, Marjorie Garvey, and Celeste Gorham. Can he settle down to one, or is he just a philanderer?

"Flash! Carleton Coakley and Celeste Gorham are at it again. Whoa! They have had a fight. Slips! They made up again. Nope! Another quarrel. Friends again! Enemies! Friends! Enemies! Friends!

"Flash! Flowers and full dress!

"Shorty Howard gave Jerrie Carlton a 'sparkling rock' for Christmas.

"Isabell Rainey and Russell Cook are putting on the Mr. and Mrs. act in June. The popularity of the ball and chain increases.

"Flash! Jack Cowling, who thinks femmes are unapproachable, and Bobby Gooding, another Don Juan, seem to have made excellent use of the moon in Fredericksburg with their opposing debating team, incidentally, composed of two good looking girls. More power to you, boys.

"Flash! William Riddick smiled very broadly when Jane Purvis won the girls' public speaking prize. Jimmy Simpson, the Argus-eyed neighbor, reports that Bill visits in the vicinity of Harvard Street now 'n then.

"And now I see my time is up, and I must say cheerio—till next year."

THE JUNIOR CLASS

We, the Junior Class, hope this year will remain in our minds as one of our happiest. It will be our last year in dear old A. H. S. For three years we have worked together and have had many happy experiences.

Next year we shall enter the new George Washington High School. The school will bear an honorable name. We think of this with great pride. Alexandria was the hometown of Washington—naturally a contributory factor in the naming of the school. Washington was the first man to donate money for public schools in the United States. Our class will be the first graduating class. Many of the ensuing customs of the new school will depend upon us for their installation. If we wish to start new methods, our willingness and cooperation will count. We shall try to make our Student Council what it should be, and we shall attempt to make the school feel that the Council is an integral part of its development. We want the school paper to be bigger and better. We want more school spirit.

The status of our school depends in large measure upon the accomplishment of these things.

The following are some comments on the new school by members of the class:

Barbara Hudnutt remarked that the building will be "very beautiful."

Virginia Nichols thinks that a new school will be "elegant."

Bobby Roberts says that the new school will be a "great improvement."

Jane Dunn says she has always looked forward to having a new high school in Alexandria and she is "quite proud" to be numbered among the first graduates of George Washington High School.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores have participated in various school activities; they have tried to accomplish something of lasting value in school work; they have remembered that, though as lower classmen they have not always been able to engineer as many of their policies as they would perhaps have preferred, they are building a strong foundation of capable leadership for their Senior days. The roster of the Sophomore Class includes a group of which we feel very proud.

FRESHMAN CLASS PROPHECY

I have been appointed as a committee of one to tell you, dear classmates, what will have happened to you in ten years. That is a big order, isn't it? Anyway, I'll try to fill it. We don't want any crystal gazers; personally, I think they are a lot of bunk. Well, gather round, put on your thinking caps, and start imagining.

Gee whiz! this oughtn't to be hard. I don't know about you, but I have my future all planned (a lot you care about that!). Nevertheless, it's gonna' be a grand one!

Now considering that, next year, we are all going to pass (I said you'd have to use your imaginations), we should be Sophomores. Since you are Sophomores, dear classmates, don't begin to put your dear little empty heads in the air and snoot everyone. 'Member you have two more years to go.

Let's see, another year has passed and you with it. (I hope I'm not punning.) You are now Juniors. (I never have liked that word; sounds like a two-year old.)

"Time flies and we with time," therefore we are Seniors. Yipee! Let's celebrate. Are you with me?

I was told that I was to take you for a trip of ten years (into the future), but, my still dear readers, I really am not able to take the whole bunch of you, and I can't take you one by one (that is against the rules and regulations). How on this earth I am to do it is beyond an inferior mental machine like mine.

Back to the flight—it surely would be a mean trick to leave you in midair. I couldn't do a thing like that, so here we go; hold on tight; this is gonna be a fast trip. College—zip—you have graduated. Business school—zip—you have a job! I hope you all like your futures as much as I do, and I bet you wish they would come true.

By LITTLE MISS MUFFETT.

(MISS ELIZABETH RASBACH to you!)

The Student Council

The Student Council of 1935 has made a splendid record for efficient work. Under the able leadership of our President, William Riddick, and under the guidance of Misses Hill and Florance much work has been accomplished.

The Council is divided up into committees which handle any situations which may arise. There is the honor committee which handles cases involving any dishonesty which may occur; the citizenship committee selects the students eligible for the citizenship award; the scholarship committee chooses outstanding students eligible for the scholarship award for the year, and the ways and means committee handles finances of the council; the committee on courtesy sponsored what we believe was a most successful courtesy campaign.

Although the Council has the welfare of the students at heart, it works under the disadvantages of a great prejudice because some of the students do not fully realize the purposes and responsibilities of a student government. Surely students should be proud of the fact that they are considered trustworthy and intelligent enough to cope with problems entrusted to their representatives.

We hope that next year the students will come to recognize the real merits of a council and will cooperate to their utmost in helping to make their government truly a government of, for, and by themselves.

THEODORE H. FICKLIN LITERARY SOCIETY

President .....	HARRIET BAGGETT
Vice-President .....	MARY SIMPSON
Secretary-Treasurer .....	DOROTHY APPERSON
Sponsor .....	MISS KROES FICKLIN

The Theodore H. Ficklin Literary Society, a veteran of the school societies, has taken an active part in promoting an appreciation of good literature.

The club has presented skits for the assembly programs and for Stunt Night.

SPANISH CLUB

President .....	MARGARET WEIL
Vice-President .....	KATE ALFRIEND
Secretary-Treasurer .....	ELSIE SMITH

The Spanish Club, as one of the activities of the Spanish department, was organized in 1927 by Miss Andujar. Since then it has been one of the most active clubs of this school. Gradually each year its standards and principles have been promoted so that today we have one of the most successful organizations in the Alexandria High School. The present membership in the club is sixty, a number which surpasses that of all other clubs.

During the year we have had several successful and interesting affairs which have enabled us to further our ambitions. One of our activities is the writing of letters to our friends in Spanish-speaking countries, in order to obtain a better understanding of this language and learn something of the customs and habits of those people. This also benefits those with whom we correspond.

One of the outstanding reasons for the success of this organization is the cooperation of all those concerned in our club.

The motives of the Spanish Club are to promote friendship among the members and to get a better knowledge of the language.

GREGG WRITERS

From among these Gregg Writers Alexandria and Washington will soon be choosing stenographers and secretaries.

A more enthusiastic and energetic group of shorthand writers is not found in any school. For their participation in the Annual Order of Gregg Artist Contest, they have been awarded Honorable Mention, the school has been presented with a suitably engrossed gold-seal certificate, and several students have been awarded gold pins as individual prizes. This contest is participated in annually by over 20,000 students and stenographers from all parts of the globe.

The accompanying picture of Gregg Writers has won a place in a photographic album of meritorious O. G. A. Contest teams that is used by the Gregg Company for exhibit purposes at the various commercial conventions that are held throughout the country.

CONRAD JOHNSON MILITARY CLUB

Commandant .....CELESTE GORHAM
 Vice-Commandant .....LILLIE AZEMA
 Scribe .....DOROTHY APPERSON
 Auditor .....ELIZABETH SHAW

The girls' military club was reorganized this year under the name, "The Conrad Johnson Military Club," in honor of the man who organized the first cadet corps in Alexandria. The club is composed entirely of members of the Girl Cadet Corps, and is under the leadership of Miss Margaret Yates. It boasts one of the largest memberships of any club in the high school.

The purpose of the organization is to promote good feelings among the "cadettes" and to give instruction in military science and tactics.

In March the club presented Cabaret Night, which was one of the outstanding social and financial successes of the year. The money taken in was used to finance the annual trip to Winchester.

COLONEL DEEMS SABRE CLUB

Commander .....	DOUGLAS STANTON
Vice-Commander .....	WILLIAM KLEYTEUBER
Adjutant .....	WALTER CORNNELL
Finance Officer .....	STANLEY KEYES

This is the second year of the Colonel Deems Sabre Club. The club is now composed of cadet officers from both Alexandria High and George Mason High. Meetings are held twice a month at the homes of the members. Here problems concerning cadet drill are discussed. Speakers are frequently secured to address the club on various matters of military interest.

A dance, given in the spring, was very successful.

CHEVRONS CLUB

President ..... EDWARD HAMMERSLEY
Vice-President ..... PAUL SHU
Secretary ..... NORMAN CARY
Treasurer ..... CARLTON COAKLEY

The Chevrons Club was organized last year for the purpose of promoting good-will among the non-commissioned officers of the Cadet Corps and of studying problems arising in cadet work. This work has gone forward very well. The membership is made up of non-commissioned officers who will in a year or two take over the leadership of the Cadet Corps from graduating officers.

LITERARY CONTEST

The Literary Contests, to determine winners to represent A. H. S. in the State Contest at the University of Virginia, May 10th and 11th, have been sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson Public Speaking Club of which Miss Mary Waller Dickinson is the Faculty Adviser. The interest in this phase of our school work showed a marked improvement over last year, both from the standpoint of numbers who entered the preliminary contest and the willingness to work for improvement.

Judges of the various contests determined upon the following as winners:

The High School was very fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. Marshall Baggett, a dramatic director, who is associated with the Little Theatre of Alexandria. He was assisted in his work by Mrs. Mary Parker and Miss Euneta Pratt.

Miss Louise Dinwiddie was Advertising Manager, and Wellington Wayland was Stage Manager.

Club News

The Pep Club this year had as its president Edna Weiner, with Dorothy Apperson as vice-president. The members were hostesses at the annual football supper, one of the school year's greatest successes. Candy was sold at several of the football games by various members.

The French Club was organized in April this year. Mary Lewis was elected president, Jane Dunn, vice-president, and Rachel Shelton, secretary-treasurer. The club is a comparatively new organization, but a play and picnic were planned at an early meeting.

The Library Club has a staff of capable officers. Anne Monroe was president, Joyce Waller, vice-president, and Jane Purvis, secretary-treasurer. The club was organized in October and has presented many books to the library. Candy was sold by some of the members at "Girl Shy."

The Art Club has completed several projects this year. Mary Strobel was president and Virginia Rasbach secretary-treasurer of the organization. Once-a-month-program meetings were held to study the works of great artists. At other meetings free-hand drawing was the objective. A large party was given by the club at Christmas time.

The Woodrow Wilson Public Speaking Club is one of the older clubs of the school. It is under the direction of Miss Mary Waller Dickinson, who is ably assisted by the following officers: Robert Gooding, president; Helen Pitts, vice-president; Thomas Moncure, secretary-treasurer; Joyce Waller, parliamentarian. The object of the club is to promote literary activities in the school; namely, public speaking, debating, reading, story writing, and spelling. The local contests for the selection of representatives in the Virginia Athletic-Literary Association are under the direction of this club.

FOOTBALL

The football team this year was considered the strongest in years, winning eight out of ten games. Prospects looked none too bright at the beginning of the season because of heavy losses from graduation. However, Coach Given received such capable replacements from last year's "Suicide Squad" that gloom soon turned to sunshine.

Eastern defeated us in the first game of the season, 7-6. Then Central fell to the "Maroon and Orange," 12-0.

The second and last reverse of the season came at the hands of Western. The "Twins," outweighed, went down fighting with a score of 6-0.

From then on, one victory followed another—Southern, National Training School, Roosevelt, Washington and Lee, Hopewell, Fredericksburg, and Gonzaga.

The Southern game was played at night in Baltimore. This was the first night game to be played by A. H. S.

The defeat of Washington and Lee, 12-7, and of Fredericksburg, 20-0, made us Champions of Northern Virginia and holder of the mythical District "B" title.

Gonzaga was played as a post-season game, the climax to Home-Coming Week. The "Twins" slid and skidded through a sea of mud and water to win, 19-0.

At the annual Football Supper, given by the Pep Club, the following received letters: Co-captains, Luckett and Fritter, Captain-elect for 1935, Shu; Varney, Fones, Ewald, Nugent, Beach, Robinson, Pulman, Stewart, Apperson, Saunders, McCuen, Jefferies, Hammersley, Burroughs, Kirchner, Davis, O'Neil, Worden, and Manager Brewer.

BASKET BALL

The "Twins" had a fairly good season this year. Several new schools were added to the schedule, among them, Manassas, Occoquan, and Waynesboro, Pennsylvania.

Mt. Rainier, National Training School, Roosevelt, Mt. St. Joseph, Nokesville, and Fredericksburg were defeated early in the year. Then followed a mixture of defeats and victories.

The team played in the Star Tournament at the close of the season, but was defeated by Bethesda-Chevy Chase in perhaps the most hotly contested game of the year, the winning basket being scored in the last few seconds of play.

We entered the state finals at Charlottesville but were defeated. This closed the season.

The team was composed of Captain McMenamin, Nugent, Wood, Lynch, Ennis, Apperson, B. Burrell, R. Burrell, Jacobson, Smith, Brewer, and Manager Roland.

THE BALLAD OF THE BASKETEERS

The practice is started with the new and the old,
And Miss Bowers is beginning the schedule to unfold.
On December 15, the St. Ritas we beat,
The score was 31 to 3—a great defeat!
The Buddies were the next to go down,
With a score of 33 to 9.
Fredericksburg, our most famous foe,
Lost to us with a score of 14 to twenty-fo'.
Herndon was our next victim,
22 to 16, we gained with great good vim.
Our winning stroke was broken, I don't say, "Alas!"
With close scores to Mt. Rainier, Herndon, and Manas-sas.
But at this bad luck we cried to heaven,
And defeated Occoquan, 36 to 11.
Our games, oh, my! are not now on a winning streak,
From Fredericksburg and Mt. Rainier we took it, not on the chin, but on the cheek.
Our A and B teams are both seen in action,
When they defeat St. Agnes, A and B, in style of satisfaction.
The season does not end as we will;
We go down to Lee-Jackson, Occoquan and Nokesville.
The players who made this season, as everyone knows,
Are the sisters Shapiro, Annie and Rose,
With Gorham, Weiner, Caton, and Shu,
And Smith, Rose, Mosher and Shaw.
"Adew."

TRACK

The track team this year is composed mostly of veterans. As this is written, the "Twins" have won both meets in which they have participated.

The first, with Episcopal "B," was taken by an overwhelming score.

The second was a quadrangular meet with Washington and Lee, Fredericksburg and Silver Springs. Again, A. H. S. was on the very large end of the score.

On May 11, a team will be sent to Charlottesville to compete in the State Contests there.

Several other meets are on schedule as this goes to press; it is hoped that the "Twins" will come out on top in these engagements.

The team: Captain Shu, Nugent, Burrell, Smith, Kirchner, Harrington, Stearman, Fones, McMenamim, Ennis, Cornnell, G. Rutledge, Moriarity, Pulzone, Burroughs, Dove, Ticer, Craig, Roberts, Robinson, Caton, Cook, R. Rutledge, and Manager Wolford.

BASEBALL

Baseball season has started with a bang. At this writing, the "Twins" have been defeated but once and that at the hands of Roosevelt, 12-11.

Central succumbed to the wily curves of "Butch" Woods, 6-5, in the first game of the year.

Eddie Hammersley, alternate hurler, shut out Eastern in a no-hit, no-run game.

National Training School and Mt. Rainier were defeated, and immediately following, Chester, Lee Jackson, and Nokesville were slaughtered with what were seemingly football scores, 16-0, 22-2, 16-0, respectively.

This comprises the games played at this time, but there are many left on the schedule.

The team: Captain Godfrey, Woods, Hammersley, Armstrong, P. Heflin, Varney, McMenamin, Brewer, Shu, Fones, Nugent, Cowling, Mitchell, J. Heflin, Barnett, Entwisle, and Manager Norford.

CADETS ON PARADE

We formed early in September this year. Temporary officers were named who took over the reins of the cadet corps until permanent officers could be appointed. There were about three platoons of old cadets coming back and two platoons of recruits. We formed two companies, a third to be formed later. We who hoped to become officers were instructed by Lieutenant Liwski in military science and tactics. When the officers were chosen, there were a few dark horses, most promotions occurring, however, as had been expected.

The cadets now go on parade.

Our first efforts of major importance were in the Dairy Festival Parade at Manassas. We made a good showing here, considering the short time allowed for training and the inexperience of the cadet officers. We next participated in a squad competition in which we lost to our brothers-in-arms, George Mason. The cadet corps planned a tree planting exercise for Arbor Day, but this failed to materialize because of inclement weather which lasted for fifteen days.

Eyes, Right! The reviewing stand!

Next came our much-looked-forward-to Winchester trip. Here we made a good showing even if it was in the usual Apple Blossom Festival weather—rain. We are now approaching the competitive drill. Our platoon is drilling unceasingly. This year we compete against George Mason and Washington and Lee. The latter are competing with us for the first time in two years. We are placing much hope on winning.

The end of the parade draws near.

June is now at hand, the time when many of the officers have a feeling creeping over them, a feeling of losing something dear to them. Many officers are leaving the cadet corps, never to lead it in parades or on the drill field again.

We, the officers, salute the cadet corps and turn over our commands to the next cadets to fall in line.

WILLIAM JEFFERIES, Major, Cadet Corps, '35.

N. B.—As this goes to press, news comes to us that Lieutenant Liwski is leaving immediately to assume official duties in the United States Army.

We should like to take this opportunity of expressing to Lieutenant Liwski our appreciation for his splendid work and cooperation here with us and our gratitude for his friendship. In him we found a strong leader, a staunch friend, and an officer who has served our needs and established behind him firm ideals that should make of our boys such men for the future.

BATTALION, ATTENTION!

The fair assemblage of young ladies on the drill field every day at twelve is none other than the Girl Cadet Corps. This organization was started four years ago as one platoon, and now is a battalion, commanded by Major Celeste Gorham. Company A is commanded by Captain Dorothy Apperson, and Company B is commanded by Captain Florence Turner. At the beginning there were about twenty enlisted. Now there are one hundred and two enlisted—a growth from one platoon to six platoons.

Many members of the corps are now busy on the rifle range every evening, preparing for the selection of the team to compete against the George Mason team later this semester.

The recruits of February boast a larger number than has ever before enlisted at mid-year. They are eighteen in number and are forming a new platoon for Company B.
